

Navigating within a Website

Some sites are fairly simple with just a few pages; others like A Season of Happiness are quite complex. You will enter the website on the Index or Home page which should list the main sub-sections or services available to you. Generally, there will be a navigation bar:

Home Display eBooks Money Health Focus Popcorn Recipes HandyHints

By clicking on any of these headings you will go straight to that particular section where you may be presented with a choice of pages to view. Moving your cursor around, you should notice a change when it is over a link. Perhaps the arrow pointer will become a hand, or the text you are pointing at may switch to a different colour eg click here.

To see how this works, try clicking on our nav-bar heading, "Focus." This will take you to the TOC (table of contents) for that subject where you will find all of the articles we have published on this topic since we began.

Also notice the information tab giving a brief description of what you will see if you click. Not all links display this tab, so to confirm where you will be going if you click, look to the info bar on the bottom left of the screen. This will tell you whether you will just go to another page within the site you are in (example 1), or are activating a direct link to an entirely different website (example 2):

1. place cursor over Recipes on the nav-bar.

This: www.aseasonofhappiness.com/Recipes.html sends you to a page within our site.

2. Go to: Focus Issue 11 and put cursor over "The Genealogist" at the foot of the article.

Sometimes, images are active links. Try moving your cursor around our Home Page and check where you are likely to go using the above tips. Once there, you can navigate to a different location by simply clicking on an available link. To return to the Home Page just click Home on the navigation bar. Alternatively, you can click the Back Button.

This can usually be found at the top left of the screen and will return you to the previous page. Even design features and small icons can take you somewhere else with a simple click or tap.

Have fun, but don't get too Click Happy! You could find yourself somewhere you don't want to be!
